Madison OKs benefit upgrades for bus drivers, non-certified staff

BY COLLIN OVERTON

The Madison Consolidated Schools Board of Trustees formally approved a 3% pay raise and additional bonuses for non-certified employees and bus drivers Wednesday night, who in previous weeks have helped the district meet staffing demands amid a shortage before the start of the school year.

Meeting at the board office during the second week of in-person classes since March, the board heard a report by Superintendent Jeff Studebaker outlining updates in benefits and pay scales targeted at retaining and recruiting drivers, custodians and other support staff at a time when other districts are beginning to offer similar inducements.

Madison was down six drivers a couple weeks before the school year started, but the district has hired at least six in a span of two weeks and looks to become fully staffed in the coming weeks thanks to the more competitive package, Studebaker said.

He said at a time when many drivers are nearing retirement, retaining newer and younger drivers will be crucial.

Move-In Day

Sophomore Emory Ramsey and her father, Seth, unpack their pickup truck with items for her dorm room on move-in day Friday at Hanover College. Residence halls opened Thursday and Friday with classes beginning at 8 a.m. on Monday.

Jackson McHugh, left, and Isaac Hubbard team up to carry a mattress during move-in day Friday at Hanover College. After sending students home to finish classes last spring due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the campus is finally coming back to life in anticipation of a fall semester that will include plenty of precautions — like the face masks both students are wearing — with hopes of limiting the spread of the coronavirus. Classes begin at 8 a.m. Monday.

Cautionary signs lined the sidewalk at Hanover College on Friday as students and their parents began arriving for move-in day for a fall semester that begins on Monday. The college sent its students home in the spring due to concerns over the COVID-19 pandemic, but is now reopening with masks and a negative COVID test required for access as well as social distancing among the other steps aimed at preventing a virus outbreak.

Visit Madison board elects new officers after shakeup

BY COLLIN OVERTON

The Visit Madison Board of Directors elected a new president, vice president and secretary/treasurer at a special meeting Tuesday following the resignation of five board members earlier this month.

Internal tensions between tourism officials came to a head at an Aug. 5 meeting for the Jefferson County Board of Tourism, when a disagreement over funding for the upcoming 5 to the 5 Vintage Hydros event resulted in board member Renie Stephens leaving the meeting and resignations by her, Robert Little and Kathy Petkovic over the course of the next week.

Resignations also followed on the Visit Madison board, with president Cara Fox, secretary/treasurer John Nyberg and members Dave Adams, Tara Cox and Stephens stepping down.

Visit Madison on Tuesday first nominated member Joe Craig to serve as board president for the remainder of the year, but he chose not to accept the nomination. A second nomination was made for Lucy Dattilo as president, and she was elected unanimously.

Craig then accepted a nomination for vice president and was also elected unanimously, as was Executive Committee Member and Madison Community Relations Director Hannah Fagen for the office of secretary/treasurer.

The remaining vacancies — three on the JCBT and five on Visit Madison — will now have to be filled by local government entities with representation on the Visit Madison Board of Directors.

The Visit Madison Board of Directors will meet again at 10 a.m. on Aug. 31.

Injuries fatal in SR 56 crash on Friday

BY MARK CAMPBELL

A 34-year-old Madison man has died from injuries he suffered in a one-car crash on State Road 56 near the entrance to the Indiana Kentucky Electric Power Plant on Friday morning.

According to a Madison Police Department release, Justin K. Cook, 34, Madison, was traveling westbound on State Road 56 at about 8:37 a.m. when his car left the travel portion of the roadway and struck a utility pole.

MPD Officers and King's Daughters' EMS rendered first aide at the scene while firefighters worked to extricate Cook from the wreckage. He was then flown from the scene to University Hospital in Louisville where he died later on Friday.

Madison Police Patrolman Joseph Gibson is leading the investigation with assistance by an Indiana State Police accident reconstructionist. Madison Police Officers Dan Stephan, Dan Slygh, Seth Melton and Chad Wehner assisted at the scene along with the Clifty Six Fire & Rescue and Fair Play Fire Company No. 1.

The investigation is ongoing.

Madison to resume disconnections for delinquent bills

Payment plan available for those who are behind

BY SPECIAL TO THE COURIER

For the past six months, an executive order by Governor Eric Holcomb has prohibited utilities from disconnecting services to customers including the City of Madison's water, sewage and trash services.

That moratorium expired Aug. 14th, so beginning Wednesday, Aug, 26, the City of Madison will resume enforcing disconnects in order to collect delinquent balances for trash, water and sewer charges from delinquent customers.

"The City of Madison has always encouraged customers to stay up to date on their utility bills if they were able to do so. We understand that there will be individuals unable to pay the full amount due, which is why the Utility Billing Office has worked to devise a payment plan option for those customers," said Utility Manager Brian Jackson.

Jackson told Madison City Council on Aug. 4 that there were about 239 delinquent customers in July billing cycle including 77 in the downtown area and 162 on the hilltop. The system serves about 6,300 customers overall.

Customers who are disconnected will need to make a payment to have services reconnected. Customers whose past due bills are less than $80 will be required to pay the full past due amount. Those who owe more than $80 will have the option to pay the total amount past due or pay one half of the past due to have service reinstated. The remaining half will be due during the next billing cycle. If the required payment is made once the service has been disconnected, disconnection fees will be waived.

For further details regarding payment plan options, visit http://madison-in.gov/426/COVID-19-Utility-Disconnect-Payment-Opti. You can also visit the City of Madison COVID-19 resource page to find information regarding Indiana Financial Assistance Resources that are available to those who may be experiencing financial hardship.

Disconnects for downtown customers will be on Wednesday, Aug. 26, and hilltop disconnections will be on Wednesday, Sept. 16. For questions regarding this or other utility matters, call 812-265-8312.

Pope John's Nichter wins poster contest

BY COURIER STAFF REPORT

Clark Nichter, a fourth grader at Pope John Elementary, has won the local and state Americanism Poster Contest sponsored by the Sons of the American Revolution, Indiana Society, through the Clifty Creek Chapter for 2019-20.

The competition was open to Jefferson County students in grades three through five locally. Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, Nichter's entry was then submitted electronically for statewide judging at the end of April with Clark, now in the fifth grade, creating the poster selected number one in Indiana.

Five Revolutionary War battles in Indiana were the possible poster subjects. Nichter focused on George Rogers Clark and the battle of Fort Sackville, Vincennes. The five guidelines set down by the National SAR Society were: original theme, originality of the student, evidence of research, artistic merit and poster neatness and visual beauty.

Teachers Shari Vaughn and Vicki Lundergan had 30 students participate in a rigorous historical project creating posters for the competition.

Michael Moore, president of the Clifty Creek Chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution, Indiana Society, presented two checks to Nichter on Aug. 14 — a $50 award by the local chapter and a $200 award by the State Society.

BENEFIT

Drivers will see a 3% pay increase this year, costing the district about $72,000 total. Drivers whose routes became longer this year due to COVID-19 protocols will also receive extra compensation with the bonus for drivers who run three to four hours a day bumped from $2 to $5. Those who drive four to five hours a day will receive an increased bonus from $3 to $10.

Bus aides will also receive a bonus for the first time; those who ride three to four hours will get paid an extra $2.50, while bus aides riding four to five hours will earn an extra $5. That increase alone will cost Madison $47,000, Studebaker said.

Also included in the benefits package for drivers who don't qualify for health insurance is access to the district's Employee Wellness Clinic on Michigan Road. Madison will cover the monthly access fee while drivers will have a small copay and reduced access to care. This will cost Madison $28,000 depending on how many drivers take that option, Studebaker said.

As for the overall health insurance benefit, the board on Wednesday voted to increase that by 4% this year.

Drivers will also have the chance to become full-time employees of the district for the first time this year due to staffing demands. This means that after driving a route, a bus driver could work at one of the buildings as a custodian, lunch aide or instructional support (ISP) employee to achieve full time status. Madison recently did this with two drivers who have served as ISPs in between their morning and afternoon routes and have since had at least six drivers accept similar offers, Studebaker said.

Non-certified employees — like full-time janitors, assistants and lunch staff — will receive a 3% increase, Studebaker said. The cost of those raises to Madison this year is $115,000.

Non-certified employees who take less than five sick or personal days also qualify for a $500 stipend that was approved Wednesday night. Roughly 17 employees qualified for that last year, according to Studebaker.

Board members expressed their appreciation of the district's employees Wednesday, noting they were a big part of the district's smooth start to the year despite changes in busing and other procedures related to the pandemic.

While there were typical first-day issues with transportation last Wednesday — traffic backed up to Clifty Drive from Anderson Elementary — and the added burden of double routing, Studebaker said everything was running smoothly by day three and both students and staff have been diligent about wearing face coverings at all times.

The board also praised students at both the elementary and secondary schools for complying with mask requirements and employees for sanitizing and keeping things under control.

"Every year you guys do a great job preparing for the opening as far as academics, but the added layer of everything with COVID just made everything more difficult. Everybody has stepped up," Board Vice President Jodi Yancey said.

While no cases of COVID-19 have been reported among Madison students so far, Studebaker said 11-12 students had been sent home the first couple weeks to quarantine after the supposedly came into contact with an infected person.

While Madison might be thorough in its prevention methods, the district has no control over what students do outside of school, Studebaker added. He mentioned at least two instances in which parents sent their children to school despite knowing they were exposed to someone with the virus.

"We're going to have a positive case, just by sheer statistics, we will have one, at least one. Our goal is to mitigate the risk, our goal is to try and keep people healthy and we're trying to minimize the spread if we get one. So far, everyone has been incredible with the protocol and it's going well so far," Studebaker said.

SHOOTING

Timothy E. Sargent, of Ohio, in connection with a shooting that sent a family of three to a Louisville hospital Wednesday night.

Sargent is described as a 41-year-old white male, 5-foot-10 and 190 pounds, with brown hair and hazel eyes. He is also wanted out of Ohio for the alleged attempted murder of a person he was familiar with on a hiking trail there and is a person of interest in the alleged murder of a former friend in Akron.

Sargent has also emerged as a suspect in Wednesday's attack on State Road 462 and Old Forest Road in southwest Harrison County as well as the abandoning of a car in a cornfield and the disappearance of a pickup truck about 15 miles from the scene of the shooting.

Investigators would also like to speak with Savanna L. Emich, also from Ohio, who is believed to be traveling with Sargent. She is described as a 20-year-old white female, 5-foot-6 and 245 pounds with blond hair and blue eyes.

Police say both Sargent and Emich may still be in a silver 2000 Chevrolet Silverado pickup truck, Indiana registration TK667L-JB, that was reported missing a short distance from where the car they believed was used in Wednesday's attack was abandoned in a southern Indiana cornfield.

Anyone seeing Sargent, the woman believed to be with him or the pickup truck, is asked to call 911 immediately and provide authorities with their location. However, both individuals are considered armed and dangerous and should not be approached.

Police began investigating the shooting at about 9:15 p.m. Wednesday when they were dispatched to State Road 462 and Old Forest Road in southwest Harrison County based on reports of a man being shot while driving his car near O'Bannon Woods State Park. An off-duty Corydon police officer who lived nearby was first on the scene and DNR Conservation Officers and ISP Troopers arrived soon after.

Officers found a gray 2016 Hyundai Santa Fe with a Kentucky license tag crashed into the wood line on the east side of State Road 462. The car was occupied by a family of three and the male driver had been shot multiple times, a female front seat passenger had also been struck by gunfire but a female in the rear passenger seat was not hit.

Officers immediately rendered first aid and the driver was flown by helicopter to University Hospital in Louisville with life-threatening injuries. Both passengers were taken to the same hospital by ambulance.

Investigators believe the family had just left O'Bannon State Park, where they had been hiking, when for an unknown reason, a white Dodge Avenger pulled up quickly behind their car with its headlights in high-beam. The Santa Fe pulled to the side of the highway and stopped to allow the vehicle to pass; however, the Avenger instead pulled alongside the Santa Fe and an occupant fired multiple rounds into the SUV.

Investigators believe the driver of the Santa Fe then attempted to escape but crashed the vehicle a short distance down the highway.

After the shooting, officers believe the driver of the Avenger fled the scene and abandoned the car in a cornfield approximately 15 miles from the scene of the shooting near the Crawford County town of Carefree, Indiana. The driver then stole the 2000 Chevrolet Silverado pickup parked at a nearby residence and fled the area.

The investigation is ongoing. Officers from the Indiana State Police were assisted by the Corydon Police Department, The Harrison County Sheriff's Department, Harrison County EMS and Conservation Officers from the Indiana Department of Natural Resources.

Area tennis teams at different points as season opens

BY DAVID CAMPBELL

Jefferson County's two high school tennis programs will be mirror opposites of each other this season. While Southwestern features a deep, talented roster of veterans, Madison is still trying to rebuild and is hopeful for a bright future.

A look at both programs, each of which kicked off their season earlier this week:

MADISON CUBS

Madison has only one returning player from last year's squad and just two other freshmen on the current roster. But coach Devon Sharpe is hopeful that his young squad can develop into a contender down the road.

"The team is looking forward to the upcoming season and getting better," Sharpe said. "Also, the junior high program has really grown and we are excited to see that progression for the future of tennis at the high school and our community."

Junior Matthew Burkhardt is the lone returner and will man the No. 2 singles position while talented freshman Bryce Miller gets a shot at No. 1 singles. Another freshman, Alex Wang, will see action as well.

The trio of Cubs kicked off their season on Thursday with a 5-0 loss to Milan. Miller lost to Shane Phelps in a close match 7-6 (7-2), 6-2, Burkhardt fell 6-0, 6-1 to Caleb Prozanski, and Wang lost 6-0, 6-0 to Charlie Jackson. Madison took forfeits at both doubles positions.

Madison, now 0-1 on the season, competed in the Bedford North Lawrence Invitational on Friday. The Cubs then travel to Greensburg on Tuesday. Madison's home opener will be Thursday, Aug. 27 when the Cubs host Hoosier Hills Conference foe Columbus East.

Southwestern makes short work of Clarksville

BY DAVID CAMPBELL

Southwestern wasted little time dispatching Clarksville, rolling to a three-set sweep in volleyball in Hanover on Wednesday.

The Rebels were never truly threatened in any set, winning each by double-digits, 25-13, 25-10 and 25-15.

"I thought we did a pretty good job, especially considering that we put in a new offense just yesterday," Southwestern coach Chris Johnson said. "I was pretty happy with the way the girls ran it. I didn't see any major errors on the offensive side so a pretty good night for us overall."

Clarksville struggled with serving and serve reception all night, limiting Southwestern's opportunities on the offensive end.

But when the Rebels were able to run a play, they rarely missed.

Southwestern (4-1) jumped out to a 12-2 lead in the opener and led 16-4 before cruising to the win and shrugged off a somewhat slow start in the second set for its biggest win of the night.

The third set followed the script with a quick start by the Rebels and an easy win.

If there was a downside to the match for Southwestern it was the Rebels' passing game.

Still getting used to the new offense, the Rebels had a few too many errors but they had little effect on the outcome.

"I think that's going to happen early on with this offense. We're really putting in a college-level offense with the hitters I have this year. I'm blessed with five hitters this year and really four of the five can hit any position," Johnson said. "So we're trying to be a little bit more creative this year and make it more difficult for the defense to decipher what we're doing and to let the girls have a little bit more fun."

Marissa Naylor, Elle Ford and Autumn Harmon led the hitters with six kills each while Naylor was also 17-for-18 serving with eight aces.

Ashleigh Ream was 15-for-15 serving with four aces and added a kill and two digs, and Abby Fulton was 20-for-20 serving with eight aces and 16-for-18 passing with two digs.

Southwestern's Halee Smith (4) spikes the ball over Clarksville's Caden Owens during Wednesday's match at King Gymnasium in Hanover.

Southwestern's junior varsity will compete in the annual Ohio River Valley Conference JV Tournament today at Rising Sun.

The Rebel varsity returns to action on Tuesday in a match at Austin.

Southwestern was originally scheduled to play at Salem that night, but the match was postponed due to COVID concerns.

Cross country squads to open season today

BY DAVID CAMPBELL

Cross country will have a different look for all local teams this season. Thanks to the COVID-19 pandemic, Hanover College's nationally renowned cross country course is closed and high schools have been scrambling to find a place to run.

But the change has also led to innovation. Madison is set to debut its new, on-campus course in a hokum karem race today, a course that will be dedicated to long-time former coach Lou Knoble. It will mark the first time that Madison has had a course on campus.

Here's a look at all four local teams, who make their season debuts today:

MADISON CUBS

Madison's girls program has only five runners, but it is a talented group that has a chance for individual accomplishments this season.

Senior Brett Cahall, a three-time semistate qualifier, leads the team and shares co-captain status with fellow senior Chloe Ferris. Both runners will be looking to push their personal-best times into the 20s. Junior Isabel Wilber is the squad's other returner.

Sophomore Cadence Traylor and freshman Ava Spencer are newcomers this year and will contribute right away.

"We are really excited for this season. Although we only have five runners this season, all five are very good runners and are capable of great individual performance which can lead us to wonderful successes as a team," Madison girls coach Josh Wilber said. "These girls certainly have worked hard over the summer and are looking forward to what they can accomplish this season."

On the boys side, former Scottsburg and Franklin College standout Kris Sandlin, a former coach at Switzerland County, takes over coaching duties and will try to continue rebuilding the program.

Seniors Luke McCarty and Brady Royalty along with juniors Lane Brawner, Noah Burkhardt, Neel Mistry, Lucas Owen and Leighton Wielgoszinski provide the experience and leadership for the team. Sophomores Ben Flores, Trevor Hoffman, Waylen Jesse, Trapper Johnson, Brayden Richards and Van Skinner, as well as freshman Logan Ferris, Christian Mundt and Liam Murphy, give the Cubs a deep roster.

"We have good numbers and establishing our culture. The guys are buying in, working hard and improving," Sandlin said. "Our line up could change quite a bit as the season goes along."

Madison opens the season today with the hokum karem race on campus. The Cubs then travel to Silver Creek on Tuesday.

SHAWE HILLTOPPERS

With a full boys team and one of the best female runners in the southern part of the state, it should be a fun season at Shawe.

Sophomore Calli Alderman won the Ohio River Valley Conference title and reached the semistate last year while earning Madison Courier Runner of the Year honors. She will be joined by newcomers senior Eliza Wieczovek and sophomore Katie Jacobs on the team.

Sophomores Wyatt Lundergan and Noah Guetig anchor the boys team which also have junior Louis Liu and freshmen Sam Fewell and Joey Pennington.

Shawe opened the season today in the hokum karem at Madison. The Hilltoppers will run at Switzerland County on Tuesday.

SOUTHWESTERN REBELS

Southwestern's boys team lost Madison Courier Runner of the Year Trevor Smith to graduation but there are plenty of reasons to think the Rebels can keep their ORVC championship run alive.

Caleb Geary, a three-time all-ORVC and regional qualifier, and Brandon Smith, a two-time all-conference and regional qualifier, anchor the squad and either

SOCCER ROUNDUP

Switzerland dominates South Ripley in blowout win

BY COURIER STAFF REPORT

Switzerland County dominated every phase of the game and rolled to a 4-0 win over South Ripley in girls soccer on Thursday.

Switzerland County outshot their Ohio River Valley Conference rivals 38-1 and attempted a whopping 20 corner kicks. Virtually the entire game was played within shooting distance of the Ripley goal and the Pacers took advantage.

Switzerland County led only 1-0 at the half after freshman Courtney Higgins hammered in a pass from Raylinn Kappes in the 30th minute, but the Pacers tacked on three more scores in the second half to turn the game into a rout.

Higgins scored for a second time in the 46th minute on a laser from the right side and Halle Archer, another freshman, put in a long shot from outside the box in the 57th minute for a 3-0 lead. Kappes, a junior, then capped the scoring with a turnaround goal in traffic in the 68th minute. Switzerland held a 17-0 advantage in shots on goal and Pacer keeper Jordan Scott did not record a save in the shutout win. Her counterpart Renee Tunny stopped 12 shots in goal for South Ripley. Switzerland County, now 2-0 in both the ORVC and overall, returns to action on Wednesday when it hosts Southwestern.

REBELS DRAW AT AUSTIN

Southwestern's girls soccer team finished in a 2-2 draw with Austin on the road on Wednesday.

Olivia Bruce put the Rebels ahead with a goal in the first half and Cadence Humes scored on a Keardsty Cizek assist in the second half. But Austin answered both goals to secure the tie.

"As a team we played poorly and with little heart," Southwestern coach Nancy Totten said. "Aleana Meador played well for our defense and with great heart."

Southwestern, now 0-1-1 on the season, hosts Milan on Monday.

sky-high in Hanover. A big reason for that optimism comes through the DeAtley brothers, senior Landon and sophomore Jordan, who shared Madison Courier Player of the Year honors in 2019. But senior Derrick Osborn and sophomores Carter Harmon and Mason Lichlyter also saw plenty of success last year. Senior Austin Caldwell, junior Tyler Simpson and sophomore Tanner Jacobs move into starting roles this season.

"This is the most experienced team I have ever had in my seven seasons at Southwestern. We have several players in new roles on the team, but are extremely talented," Southwestern coach Robert Green said. "They have worked so hard in the short time we have been given this summer and can't wait to compete against others. We want to continue to build off of the success we had last year."

Tuesday, Southwestern opened by sweeping East Central and competes in today's Eastern (Pekin) Tournament. Monday, it hosts Christian Academy of Indiana in their home opener.

Stark qualified for the state tournament with their scores.

Bailey Mefford led Carroll County with a 105, Gabriella Hembree had a 106, Grace Long shot a 118 and Taylor Franklin carded a 133.

The Rebels' Mallory Hardesty was third overall with an 80.

In the boys tournament on Thursday, Carroll County placed third with a 384 and Trimble was fourth with a 410. Walton-Verona won the championship with a 339, Owen County was second with a 343 and Gallatin was fifth with a 435.

Kennedy Daigle led the Carroll boys with an 85, which was good for sixth overall. Luke Staley shot a 98, Jaxon Hewitt had a 100 and Connor Mefford shot a 101.

Ryan Long led Trimble with a 96, Collin Stark shot a 101, Connor Butters had a 105, Cameron Blackaby shot a 108 and Colin Jennings carded a non-scoring 121.

could be the third Rebel to win the ORVC in as many years.

Matthew Williams and Colton Cloud, both regional qualifiers, round out an impressive core of returning runners. Senior Owen Bates and freshmen Keegan Gross and Jamison Lewis are newcomers this season but have a chance to make their presence felt.

"The boys have big goals again this year. Obviously going for their sixth-straight ORVC Championship is on there but making it to semistate is a big one," Southwestern coach Zac Nussbaum said. "They have a lot of work to do to get there, but these boys aren't afraid of that. I'm excited to see where they are on Saturday."

Kirsten Geary, a two-time regional qualifier, leads a girls squad that will lack experience overall. Patricia Smith, who just missed all-conference by a few spots last season, is the only other returner. Ashley Fulton comes in and will be one of the team's top runners right away.

"This girls team took some big hits in the off season as two regional qualifying runners are no longer on the team. One individual moved and the other decided not to run," Nussbaum said. "Fortunately, Aleea Crumley and Lilly Douglas have agreed to come out and help the team. Both girls are good athletes that will do well once they build up their endurance through training. This is another team that I'm excited to see where they are at the end of the season."

Southwestern opens the season today at Southwestern (Shelby) and competes at Switzerland County on Tuesday.

Switzerland County returns three runners from last year, all of whom earned all-conference honors.

Sophomore Gracie White, a semistate qualifier last year, and Alisha Detmer, who reached the regional, anchor the girls squad with seniors Bethany Dashzeveg and Katera Allen joining the team.

Sophomore Nathan Furnish earned all-conference honors last year and will be joined on the boys team by seniors Myles Covington and Avery Osowski and freshman Dylan Sullivan.

"The team has worked really hard over the summer, we are excited to be running together again and looking forward to a great season," Switzerland coach Meganmarie Dennis said.

Switzerland County opened the season today at Southwestern (Shelby) and hosts Southwestern (Jefferson) and Shawe on campus on Tuesday.

Are Insurance Company Financial Ratings Important? Yes They Are!

Layin' It on the Line

By Stephen Dybwad
Retirement Planning/
Wealth Management

"Make sure you know the financial strength of the insurance company you select."– Stephen Dybwad

An annuity is a long-term financial contract, and permanent whole life insurance purchased as an alternative to annuities is also a commitment that could last for several years. Investors who wish to make a good decision can help themselves resarching annuity rating agencies to help make an informed buying decision.

Annuity Rating Agencies

An annuity rating agency assigns ratings to insurance and annuity companies based on their opinion of how the company performs. In the United States, there are four major annuity rating agencies. These rating agencies include A.M. Best, Fitch, Moody's Investors Services and Standard and Poor's. Each agency uses different though similar methods and calculations to determine ratings and each agency uses different terms within its rating system. An "A+" means different things depending on which agency is assigning the "A+" rating, and some agencies do not have an "A+" rating at all, so the ratings do not correlate directly by name. The best strategy for investors is to compare ratings among the four agencies and focus on companies that have received top-tier ratings.

Top-Tier Ratings Comparison

For example, A.M. Best's top rating is "A++ Superior," and it is assigned to companies that have, in A.M. Best's opinion, "a superior ability to meet their ongoing insurance obligations." Fitch's top rating is "AAA Extremely Strong," and denotes that Fitch believes the company "very unlikely to be affected by adverse market conditions."

Moody's Investor Service's top rating is also "AAA Extremely Strong," but Moody's rating signifies that "market conditions are unlikely to affect a fundamentally strong position." And Standard and Poor's, the same company responsible for the S&P 500, also uses "AAA Extremely Strong" as their top rating. They use it to mean just what Fitch does, that a company is "very unlikely to be affected by adverse market conditions."

How Annuity Rating Agencies determine annuity Company Ratings

Different annuity rating agencies use different systems to compile their ratings, and rating agencies revisit companies periodically to review the rating. The standard reassessment occurs yearly, though a company can be reassessed more frequently, based on performance. Therefore, a company's rating may shift from one period to the next, and a company with a rating lower than the top tier with one of the four agencies may also be able to meet its financial obligations. Investors should ensure that the company from which they are purchasing an annuity is rated in the top tier by at least one of the above agencies.

An annuity or life insurance contract represents a debt to an insurance company that must be paid at some point in the future. A life insurance company's ability to manage debt is one of the most important keys to getting and maintaining a high credit rating.

Many variables are part of an annuity rating agency's decision of determination regarding credit ratings, but an annuity rating agency bases its evaluation, in most basic terms, on a company's ability to meet its financial obligations. Balance sheet categories including cash accounts, equities, and bonds are all compared against long-term obligations. The rating agency reviews the company's history and track record including the timeliness of claim payments.

Another important factor used to determine whether or not an annuity company maintains its high credit ranking is the company's ability to manage risk. To manage risk, the company uses actuarial tables that calculate the risk involved in selling the annuity contract compared to the costs. Especially in regards to annuity products that guarantee an annuitant income for life, each month's premiums must balance to the amount paid out. The amount that will need to be paid out is based on the age, gender, and life expectancy of the annuitant. Including the cost of managing the contract, the insurance company has to be sure that at the very least it does not take in less in premiums and earn less on its investments than it will over the life of the annuitant. An incorrect calculation by the annuity company results in the company losing money, and poor results for the company can affect the company's credit rating.

As an example of a top-tier rating by Moody's Investors Service, Moody's rates investing in US Treasuries as AAA, because regardless of fluctuations in the United States economy, US bonds and bills will be paid with interest and on schedule. Because of this dependability, treasury bonds and bills are considered the safest of all investments, and most insurance and annuity companies keep them in their portfolio and invest in them heavily.

Time to fully commit or quit

Dear Annie: I have been with this guy off and on for 26 years. We are the best of friends. We do everything together that would have us a couple. Well, just a few weeks ago he told me he had "hooked up" with someone we both know. She is the wife of a friend who was just sent to prison. Now, she keeps texting and calling him, telling him she loves him and can't wait to feel his touch again. What really bugs me is that it sounds like the two of them were more intimate than he and I have ever been.

When I bring up how her texting him bothers me, he said that she annoys him, too, and he realizes that hooking up with her was a mistake. He doesn't acknowledge the texts that she sends and doesn't answer her phone calls. But she just doesn't get the hint.

Lately, I've started deleting some of her texts before he can read them. I texted her from my own phone to say that I'm a part of his life whether she or anyone else likes it. What more can I do to make her see that she's wasting her time thinking he's going to be with her? — Totally Stressed Out

ANNIE LANE
DEAR ANNIE

Dear Stressed Out: The more useful question is why are you wasting your time on a man who won't commit. It sounds like he's not even recognized you as his girlfriend. And whether or not he replies to this other woman's text messages, he clearly gets something out of the attention, or he'd have blocked her number by now.

You deserve to be with someone who wants to be with you entirely — not halfway. In a healthy, secure and truly loving relationship, you won't feel the need to fend off other women.

Dear Annie: Today, I wanted to share my experience with the hopes that it would enlighten you and others. Your advice to the woman was to leave her husband that has been unfaithful to her many times. My experience, however, and that of many partners of sexaholics, would say to put on the brakes. First, she should get tested for any venereal diseases, as these sexaholics are liars. Having said that, there is help for him and for her as well. If, and only if, he wants help, he should seek out a therapist who specializes in sexual addiction. I would also advise her, whether he wants help or not, to also seek a therapist who deals with partners of sexaholics. Clearly, she has a pattern of picking out partners with this behavior and she could utilize a support system for her.

It takes a long time and sometimes slips happen (on both sides) but this addiction is like any other. It can be helped with support and therapy. It may involve separation or even divorce, but it also may mean a stronger-than-ever marriage because now it is based on truth. — Joanie

Dear Joanie: Thanks for speaking to a light at the end of this particular tunnel. I have heard from other readers who have, with treatment, been able to manage sex addictions and improve their marriages. In addition to therapy, there are support groups available, including Sex Addicts Anonymous and Sexual Recovery Anonymous.

Finding joy in having a friend

ANNIE LANE
DEAR ANNIE

Dear Annie: I am a 47-year-old married woman with two teenagers. I have a good marriage, although my husband is a difficult person to live with. He has mild OCD, is moody and has a temper. He is driven at work and, though respected in our community, is never romantic or thoughtful. He would never cheat on me, but he takes me for granted.

I have tried to talk to him, but he refuses to see a therapist. So, I have gone myself. This has been helpful, and, to his credit, with prompting from me - as advised by my therapist — he has made some positive strides, particularly with his temper.

Also, I have found fulfillment in a small business I founded and run, which keeps me busy. Overall, I am reasonably happy today, apart from when he is in a bad mood. I intend to stay in this marriage because we have kids and because I made a vow, and, ultimately, I love him.

The problem is that I have secretly developed a crush on a male friend, who is married with kids as well. He and I have been friends via mainly our church for many years, though we also chat at community events. Nothing inappropriate has happened between us, but he often texts me during the workday, or at night, cute links or jokes - nothing inappropriate and usually very humorous, about things we have discussed or topics in which he knows I'm interested. I welcome the attention and look forward to his messages. This has been going on for several years. I believe he has a stable marriage, but his wife has mental health issues, such as depression, agoraphobia and mild alcoholism. I know these weigh on him, though he never discusses it with me. I suspect he enjoys my "company" also as an escape, though he is ultimately devoted to his wife. Still, I sometimes find myself daydreaming, "What if?"

My question is whether I should force myself to end the friendship and stop the texting. On the one hand, I feel guilty, enjoying the virtual company of a man who is not my husband, and a married man at that. But on the other, his warmth and friendship are very valuable to me and bring me needed joy, especially on tough days. I would feel great sadness to end things, particularly not being able to explain to him why. — Torn in Ontario

Dear Torn in Ontario: It is OK to have a friend of the opposite gender who makes you laugh and brings you joy. You both sound like you are devoted to your spouses, so there is nothing wrong with having friends. However, your recent development of a crush on him likely has more to do with your current marriage than with your friend.

Don't take a dramatic stance and run away from your friend because you have feelings for him, but rather run to a good marriage counselor and try and fall back in love with your husband. Marriage is work, and we get out of it what we put into it. The therapy you underwent gave you the tools to find acceptance and fulfillment, and your husband started to work on his temper. Continuing therapy could offer you more tools to not feel guilty for finding joy in friends. Having a happy wife might let your husband loosen up a little and begin to laugh with you. Finding joy in life is so valuable. Sometimes, you just have to work on finding — and keeping — it.

NOTICE OF HEARING ON PROPOSED LEASE BETWEEN JEFFERSON COUNTY, INDIANA BUILDING CORPORATION AND JEFFERSON COUNTY, INDIANA

You are hereby notified that on Thursday, September 3, 2020, the Board of Commissioners of Jefferson County, Indiana will hold a public hearing on a proposed lease to be entered into between the Jefferson County, Indiana Building Corporation (the "Corporation"), as lessor, and Jefferson County, Indiana (the "County"), as lessee (the "Lease") with respect to the financing of all or any portion of the acquisition, construction, improvement, and/or equipping of a new county jail facility located at 1150 J.A. Berry Lane, Madison, Indiana 47250, and any related improvements, all to be used for the purposes of providing incarceration, community corrections or other law enforcement or criminal justice services by the County (collectively, the "Project").
Such public hearing will be held at 5:00 p.m., local time, on Thursday, September 3, in the Commissioners' Office in the Jefferson County Courthouse, Room 103, 300 East Main Street, Madison, Indiana.
The leased premises (the "Premises") under the proposed lease consists of all or a portion of the existing County jail facility located at 317 Walnut Street, Madison, Indiana 47250 and the Project, and the real estate on which such facilities are or will be located. The proposed lease is for a term of up to twenty (20) years commencing on the date of issuance of bonds of the Corporation to finance the Project (the "Bonds"). The annual lease rental will not exceed Two Million Nine Hundred Thousand Dollars ($2,900,000) payable in semiannual installments on January 1 and July 1 of each year during the term of the Lease. Each rental installment shall be based on the value of the portion of the Premises which will be complete and ready for use and occupancy by the County at the time such semi-annual installment is made. As additional rental, the County shall maintain insurance on the Premises as required in the Lease and shall pay all taxes and assessments against such property, as well as the cost of alterations and repairs. After a sale of the Bonds, the yearly rental, payable in semiannual installments on each January 1 and July 1 shall be reduced to the multiple of $1,000 next higher than the principal and interest due on the Bonds in each twelve month period commencing on July 1, plus $7,000, payable in such semiannual installments.
The County has previously imposed the income tax on the taxpayers of the County pursuant to IC 6-3.6 (the "LIT") and allocated a portion of the additional revenue category of the expenditure rate of the LIT to the subcategory of public safety (the revenues from such public safety sub-category, the "Public Safety Revenues"). To assist in the financing of the Project by the County, the City of Madison, Indiana (the "City") has agreed that the County shall receive 50% of the portion of the Public Safety Revenues received by the City (such portion of Public Safety Revenues received by the County, the "City Contribution"). The County shall pay lease rentals under the Lease solely from (i) the revenues of (a) the adjusted gross income tax levied and collected by the County pursuant to Indiana Code § 6-3.6-6-2.7 (the "Jail Income Tax Revenues"), (b) the share of the Public Safety Revenues received by the County (the "County Public Safety Revenues"), and (c) the City Contribution (the Jail Income Tax Revenues, the County Public Safety Revenues, and the City Contribution, collectively, the "Income Tax Revenues"), and (ii) to the extent that the Income Tax Revenues are insufficient to pay such amounts, from the revenues of an ad valorem tax levied by the County on all taxable property in the County pursuant to the IC 36-1-10-17.
The lease gives an option to the County to purchase the Premises. The Project will be used for the purposes of providing incarceration, community corrections or other law enforcement or criminal justice services by the County.
The drawings, plans, specifications and related information, including the estimates for the cost of providing the Project, as well as a copy of the proposed lease, are available for inspection by the public during normal business hours, at the office of the Auditor of the County, Jefferson County Courthouse, 300 E Main Street Street, Madison, Indiana 47250.
At such hearing, all persons interested shall have a right to be heard upon the necessity for the execution of the Lease, and upon whether the lease rental provided for therein to be paid by the County to the Corporation is a fair and reasonable rental for the Premises. Such hearing may be adjourned to a later date or dates. Following such hearing, the Board of Commissioners may authorize the execution of the Lease as originally agreed upon, rescind the proposed Lease, or make modifications therein as may be agreed upon with the Corporation, but in no event may the rental exceed the amounts set forth in this notice. The Board of Commissioners may approve the execution of the Lease if it finds that the service to be provided throughout the term of the Lease will serve the public purpose of the County and is in the best interests of its residents.
Dated this 24th day of August, 2020.
